

WELCOME TO THE GAME TRAIL

We aim to get you to the top of the hill in easy stages on your way to The Last Resort. We hope that it will be fun and entertaining.

Up to $5000 reward for the first drawn correct entry.

Great for groups. Within any group some may be better analysts and some may be better field operatives.

HERE IS YOUR MISSION.

TODAY

Mission for Agent 0064

The International Organisation; TIO (UNCLE)

“You have been chosen for a mission of the utmost importance. If you are successful, you will return to honor and rewards beyond your imagination. You will report only to me. You will consult no one. You will reveal details of this mission to no one. They tell me you are the star of the directorate (UNCLE); you will need to be.”

Maintain your cover as a tourist in New Zealand. Proceed to Riversdale Station. Mingle amongst the walkers on the trail to The Last Resort.

SITUATION REPORT

Subject: Discovery of Listening Device and Associated Security Threats)

Date: YESTERDAY

Location: Mayor's Office

Summary: A listening device has been discovered in the Mayor's office, raising significant security concerns. Concurrently, misinformation campaigns are targeting the Mayor, alleging his involvement in plans to massively increase rates and implement excessive additional rateable criteria. Further rumours suggest the misappropriation of ratepayer funds and cronyism within the council. The Mayor believes there is a deliberate effort to destabilize his position and undermine the council's credibility, while attributing the misdirection of substantial council funds—reportedly for the construction of four dog kennels—possibly to him. The Mayor fears for his safety due to threats from unidentified sources.

Suspects: The primary suspects in this conspiracy are members of the Council, including the Councillors and certain senior staff members.

Action Taken: UNCLE has been engaged by the Mayor to conduct a thorough investigation into these matters.

Operation Details: A trap has been devised to identify the individual responsible for the listening device. The Listener, the bug person. This involves monitoring the presence of Councillors and staff members in their usual environments. You are tasked with identifying any absentees from among the Councilors and staff.

Method of detection: Clues will be found at intervals along the "The Last Resort Walk," positioned in clear view in orange coloured ducting. The Game Trail ends at the top of the hill. These clues will indicate potential locations in which to find the suspects based on their personal habits and behaviours.

Instructions:

- > Proceed to the "GAME TRAIL" commencing at the start of The Last Resort Walk. Following the yellow arrows look for the orange ducting.
- > Collect clues at designated intervals to determine the likely whereabouts of the suspects.
- > Identify which Councilor or staff member is absent from their usual surroundings.

Yellow arrows like these will mark the track to The Last Resort.

Orange ducting along the way will reveal a clue for the Game Trail.

Read: The South Wairarapa Times News on next page.

The list of Suspects:

- > Colin Crawley – The Cockroach
- > Dan Woodcock - The Tree
- > Russell Rathbone – The Rat
- > Peter Coombes – The Pigeon
- > Wendy Brown – The Weka
- > Ned Fisher - The Gnome
- > Doug Stapleton – The Post
- > Molly Homes – The Magpie
- > Jack Major – The Badger
- > Kenneth Cobb – The Koala

Reporting: As the Mayor is currently on leave, all findings and reports should be submitted to the dead letter drop at The Last Resort for collection.

Good Luck!

SOUTH WAIRARAPA TIMES

Mystery Surrounds Martinborough as Mayor Goes Missing

By Ari Porter

On Thursday morning mystified residents and visitors to Martinborough witnessed dozens of cars converge on the offices of the District Council on Kitchener Street, some were marked Police cars.

Already a chauffeur-driven Mercedes limousine with diplomatic plates and a flag on the bonnet was parked at the road end of the concourse to the Council offices. The limousine had been observed to come from the direction of Wellington.

As the Police and others who had arrived in the unmarked vehicles watched, bystanders saw a person with a coat over their head surrounded front, back and sides in tight formation by an escort of watchful and very large people in dark suits.

The unidentified person and escort quickly climbed into the waiting limousine.

As the doors shut, they disappeared behind thick tinted glass windows and without delay, but also without haste headed west along Kitchener Street, out of town and out of sight.

A witness and local resident who did not want to be named said "This is strange even for Martinborough where strange things have been happening for the past few months. Our Mayor is missing and then this" human happiness.

No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure.